

EXCLUSIVE Conference Call:
Religious Freedom and the Coronavirus

Millions of Americans are adjusting to the new normal brought on by the Coronavirus pandemic. Government officials, trying to stem the spread and effects of the pandemic, have imposed restrictions on large gatherings—including churches and other religious institutions. How should America’s faithful respond? Do these state-mandated restrictions conflict with the First Amendment and religious freedom?

Join First Liberty Institute attorneys LIVE at Noon ET tomorrow, Friday, March 20, 2020 for an exclusive conference call with America’s pastors and religious leaders. Dial (877)743-5428 at Noon ET on March 20.

Justin Butterfield, former Senior Advisor for Conscience and Religious Freedom in the Office for Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services will co-host the call along with Jeremy Dys, First Liberty Special Counsel for Litigation and Communications.

What: Briefing on Religious Freedom During the Coronavirus

When: Friday, March 20, 2020
Noon ET

Where: Dial (877)743-5428

After the presentation, participants will be invited to ask questions. Ask your question live or send your question to AskFLI@FirstLiberty.org.

For more information, please visit FirstLiberty.org.